Christ, God of Gods, have mercy on me.

In iniquity did my mother deliver me into sin.

I beseech you, Savior, have mercy on me. Wounded by sin,

I fall down before you, Savior.

Do not overlook me. Have mercy on me.

The tax collector, sighing, received forgiveness in the temple.

With his voice, I too cry:
Have mercy on me, O God.

The thief beseeched from the cross, "Remember me, Lord."

With his voice, I too cry:

The Prodigal Son, pleading, beseeched you: "Father, I have sinned in heaven and before you."

With his voice, I too cry:

Have mercy on me, O God.
Grant us temperance, Lord,

after the example of Lazarus the poor man,

so that through voluntary poverty

we might become worthy of the kingdom of heaven with him.

Hear us and have mercy on us, Christ God.

Instead of bread for his hunger,

you granted him the Bread of immortality.

And for the rich man's ignorance
you received him in the bosom of Abraham.

Hear us and have mercy on us, Christ God.

Enlighten the eyes of our hearts to receive mercy from you in mercy.

Lest with the rich man in the flaming fire,

we beg for a fingertip of water for refreshment.

Hear us and have mercy, Christ God.
Glorify God without beginning, the almighty Father, with the vigilant angels of heaven.

Glorify the only-begotten Son born of the Father,
with an angelic voice.

And the Holy Spirit who makes new, glorify Him with an exhilarating voice;

with unceasing voice.

God without beginning and heavenly King,
We praise you, Father, without beginning.

You humbled yourself from the heights for our salvation,

O Breaker of chains and Healer of our souls.

We extol the only-begotten Son.

Consubstantial

with the Father and glorified with your only-begotten,

O distributor of gifts and giver of mercy—
We glorify you, true Holy Spirit.

You shined the divine light of your Word upon the darkness of ignorance engulfing the world.

Enlighten us, too, to the Father's Wisdom.

You gave a symbolic example of the general judgment to the rich man and to Lazarus, giving them the opposite of what they received here.
For this we beseech you, Lord, to save us from the fire of sin and torment, that we might rest in the bosom of the patriarch of the righteous.
With whom, together with the choirs of angels,
in unison, we too might sing
to the undivided Holy Trinity, Glory in the Highest.
Rejoice in the overshadowing power of the Most High Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Spring of life flowing from Eden,

Holy Mother of God, by whom the parched earth drank through the wisdom of the Spirit.

Bid Him to give us springs of tears and dwelling of the Holy Spirit, by whom you gave birth to God the Word. Intercede for us,

Mary, Mother of God.
to purify us of our sins.

Now and always and unto the ages of ages. Amen.

Through you, all of us here below delight in your second coming, and the choirs of bodiless angels constantly exult with the heavenly beings.
